Unfortunately we have just heard from Costcutter that they have had to postpone setting up the pop-up shop in the village due to severe staff shortages. They appreciate that this will be a big disappointment and they are looking into whether they could provide a home delivery service for Fangfoss & Bolton. If there is anyone in the village who has worked at Costcutter in the last 12 months who could step in to help please contact Pamela Broughton.

We are very sorry to have built expectations but this has been a last minute decision by Costcutter. Nevertheless please be assured that our volunteers will be happy to shop for you if you are self-isolating at home, don't hesitate to call.
